REMUNERATION, FEES, AND COSTS

All of DFXT's employees are paid a salary. In addition to a salary, some employees may receive performance-based, discretionary bonuses. Bonuses are calculated according to a number of performance factors including the general performance of DFXT.

SPREAD

DFXT earns income from the spreads that are embedded in the currency rates quoted on the online trading platforms as well as technology fee for its end-to-end broker solution. Spreads are the difference between the best bid and best offer rates at which you buy and sell the financial instruments. This spread is factored into the price and rates quoted to Clients and are not additional charges to you, the Client. You will incur a mark-up within the spread that ranges from .0 pip to 1.2 pips depending on the trading platform, currency pair, market conditions, size of the trade and prevailing market rates. If you use our services via a third party such as an introducing broker you may incur a mark-up as high as 2.5 pips.

INACTIVE ACCOUNT FEES

If for a sustained period of time, your account remains inactive and no trading activity is conducted, DFXT reserves the right to charge a maintenance fee to maintain the account. If there are insufficient funds in the account for this purpose, DFXT reserves the right to charge a lower administrative fee and/or to close the account.

ROLLOVER INTEREST AND OVERNIGHT FINANCING

Clients who hold a long (or bought) position overnight on CFDs will receive a debit on their account. The interest rate applied to the value of the bought position will normally not exceed 3.0% over the current local inter-bank offered rate. Clients who hold short (or sold) position overnight on CFDs will receive a credit to their account. The interest rate applied will normally not be less than 3.0% below the local inter-bank offered rate. The actual interest rates applied in the calculation of financing will vary from time to time.

Clients who hold opened Spot FX and Bullion positions will have their positions rolled to the next available spot date. When this occurs, you may pay or receive a rollover fee. Regarding FX, a rollover is based upon the different interest rates of the respective currencies. Regarding Bullion, a rollover reflects Gold leasing rates relative to the USD interest rate. Clients may either receive or pay the rollover depending upon whether you held a bought or sold position relative to the level of interest rates.

Example:

When you buy AUD/USD, you are selling USD to buy AUD. If AUD has a higher rollover rate than USD, you are buying the currency with the higher interest rate, so you will earn rollover. If you sell AUD/USD, you are selling the currency with the higher interest rate, so you will pay rollover as you are paying AUD interest rate and earning the USD interest rate.

Example:

AUD/USD rollover interest is -1.28/- 0.78 you are long AUD/USD 100,000.00

At 5 p.m. New York time (or 23:00 GMT) your position will be rolled over to the next value date.

Your account will be credited with US$7.8 (100,000 x 0.78/10000)

Gold and Silver CFDs

In the case of Gold and Silver CFDs, the Rollover Charge or Rollover Benefit is calculated by multiplying the total notional value of the position by the rollover interest rate.

If you are long on a Bullion CFD, you may have to pay us a Rollover Charge, whilst if you are short you may receive a Rollover Benefit from us. In some circumstances, however, the opposite may apply.

Example:

XAU/USD rollover interest is -1.00/+0.33 You are long XAU/USD 1 lot (100 oz)

At 5 p.m. New York time your position will be rolled over to the next value date. Your account will be debited with USD3.30 (100 oz x 0.33)

Note: USG's rollover of gold will be based on the Gold Forward Offered Rate relevant gold LIBOR/LIBIR interest rates with mark up 0.25% of the interest rate.

Index CFDs

An Index Future CFD will expire on the last business day preceding the day of expiry of the relevant underlying instrument, which is an Equity Index Futures Contract that expires on a monthly or quarterly basis.

Should an open position in relation to an Index Future CFD be held until expiry, then that position will be automatically closed at the official closing price of the relevant Underlying Instrument and re-opened at the official closing price of the relevant Underlying Instrument.

Example:

You are long of Jun E-mini (ESM12) Futures CFD contract which expires on the 15 Jun. Your position will be closed out at the settlement price on expiry date. Simultaneously a new position will be created for the next trading serial CFD ESU12 at the settlement price.

No charges are incurred when positions are rolled as the closing and opening prices relate directly to where the relevant instruments have been trading and there will be a cash adjustment made to your account to reflect the differences in the official closing and opening prices.
